MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

VIA: Deputy Director of Central Intelligence

FROM: Executive Director

SUBJECT: CIA Committees

1. In response to a recent Presidential directive concerning the reform of Federal advisory committees, you asked me to revisit the subject of Agency committees which was explored a little over a year ago. That review is now complete. With the concurrence of the Deputy Directors, the following groups, all of which either have outlived their utility or have otherwise been overtaken by events, are hereby abolished:

- Interdirectorate Planning Group
- Emergency Planning Panel (Specific duties will be absorbed by the DA, the DI, and the DO.)
- Clandestine Technical Collection Panel (Concerns are now covered by the DS&T's Collection Group.)
- Political-Military Advisory Panel
- Priority Collection Projects Panel (Requirements will be incorporated into the Future Intelligence Requirements Forecast under the Intelligence Producers' Council.)
- Recruitment Advertising Committee
- Building Planning Committee
- Output Media Working Group
- Off-Campus Advisory Committee
- Microform Publications Exception Review Board
- Technical Education Advisory Board
- Logistics Officer Training Committee
- Ad Hoc Committee for CT Training
- Management Advisory Committee
- Media Support Committee
- Space Advisory Board
- Computer Working Group

3. Some other reordering is also being looked at. The Office of Personnel is exploring the possibility of merging into a single entity the Honor and Merit Awards Board, the Suggestion and Achievements Awards Committee, and the Intelligence Community Awards Review Panel. Finally, the NIO for Foreign Denial and Intelligence Activities and the Director of NPIC have agreed to refocus the work of the Camouflage, Concealment and Deception Technical Review Group and to subordinate it as an advisory group to the newly created Foreign Deception and Denial Analysis Committee.

4. Many of the above, for one reason or another, probably did not qualify for entry on the list compiled for you a year ago. This removes them from the rolls in any event.
